

WHAT THEY SAY:

“The ... Quackquacks [Kakuwâ sic] ... are peaceful ..., and in our service they make good soldiers.” p. 617).

Sir. C.N.E. Eliot, K.C.M.G., C.B, H.M.,
Commissioner and Consular General of East Africa Protectorate
Notes on a Journey through Uganda, Down the Nile to the Congo, published in The Geographic Journal (Volume 20: July - December 1902, pp 617-619), Royal Geographic Society.

“... the Kakwa [Kakuwâ sic] are the most intelligent tribe in the [Lado sic] Enclave.”

(Equatoria, The Lado Enclave. London: Constable, 1923).
1901, J. H. Stingard
former British Colonial Inspector of the Mongalla Province

Zaire (République du). 25 ans des Forces Armées Zaïroises (FAZ). Département de Défense Nationale. [Twenty Five Years of the Zairian Armed Forces. Department of National Defence]. Kinshasa, 1985.

(Il est dit dans cet ouvrage que les kakwa sont les meilleurs archers du Zaire).
[It is said in this book that the Kakwa [Kakuwâ sic] are the best archers of Zaire].